DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- (e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 4-7, 9-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Arsenault.

Claims 1, 4-7, 9-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Ezell.

Claims 1, 4-7, 9-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Sugihara et al.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Arsenault in view of Etchen. Arsenault shows the claimed invention except that the adjustable feature for the guard is not shown. Etchen an adjustable guard. It is adjustably vertically. Obviously one would want such an adjustable mounting for the guard of Arsenault to set the proper height after setting the position of the bracket on the support shaft.

Claims 3, 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ezell.

It is well recognized that simply doubling or multiplying the number of a disclosed member or members would be obvious absent a showing of criticality or nonobviousness.

Claims 11-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sugihara et al. Sugihara shows the claimed invention except that the guard may not be considered to be a brush. The guard of Sugihara is flexible and is formed as plural vertically extending members. This construction is very similar to a brush and it is therefor felt that using a brush would have been obvious. In other words a brush is a mechanical equivalent to the guard of Sugihara and would be obvious to use therewith.
